LOUISVILLE JOURNAL
We showed the other day by extracts from the Richmond Enquirer, the organ of the Confederate Government, that the secessionists, having robbed and plundered the Government to the greatest possible extent, are now about to fall upon each other and commit atrocities upon the assets of all the banks with the taking or receiving of paper money with the exchange of specie or paper money with the death of its banks, whose times are to be received in payment for all taxes and public dues, and make each bank redeem the bills of any other bank. The motive for these monstrous financial suggestions is that the secessionists are more than the bank issue, and the proposition is to produce a sound and uniform currency by the equalizing of the value of the gold, silver, and paper money. This has been the device of money charlatans in all time. If specie is scarce, there can be no efficient currency for the purposes of business. Albert Gallatin, who was Secretary of the Treasury under both Jefferson and Madison, and in the opinion of Henry Clay more of the currency than any other man in the country, devoted his life to the exposure of this very error. Prompt payment of bank notes is not the indispensable guarantee of a sound currency, which cannot be secured "unless the whole currency vary in amount and value exactly as a metallic currency would be the paper currency withdrawn and coin substituted in its stead." Gallatin asserted that after having tried to discover the cause of the depreciation of the currency, he found that the cause was the depreciation of the currency, and that the only way to secure a sound currency was to secure a sound currency.

Notice.—Persons sending in news letters will oblige us by adopting the following address: "Louisville Journal, Drawer B, Louisville, Ky."

For military advertisements see first page.

Need we repeat that no attention is given to anonymous communications? They are not even read—not a line of them.

The commanding officers of companies and company sergeants would be doing a good service by giving direct information to the friends and relatives of sick soldiers. The same is applicable to those who have not been in accidents. If officers will convey such information to us, we shall take unusual pains to make it public, and shall esteem it our duty to provide the disabled and sick, if possible, beyond the commission of those who are in the field and healthy.

We learn that the rebel Barker and Brown, the county town of Edmonson, on Thursday last, and, by proclamation, ordered that the taxes should be paid to the Southern Confederacy. Mr. Lemons, Bar, the Sheriff, took books, papers, etc., and sought refuge with Gen. Buckner. He was arrested in Captain McCullough's mounted rangers, and will go back in due time to re-establish his office and secure what he has left behind. Old father Harrod, a worthy citizen of the Edmonson, who has seen two generations of war, has seen the same company and promise to give a good report of himself. All along our line the men are impatient for an advance, and before many days the expectation is that they will be gratified. There is no idea of a backward movement. In the vicinity of Green River, forward is the word eagerly expected, and it will be readily obeyed.

The New Albany Ledger says the census of the children in Floyd county has lately been taken by the township trustees and returned to the School Examiner, Mr. J. V. Kato. From him we learn that there are between the ages of five and twenty-one years from 7,000 to 8,000 males and 8,500 females. There are fifty-six public schools in the county. The number of children in attendance during the year is 1,500, about one half of the whole number. The average attendance is 1,350 per cent. There are employed forty male and eighty female teachers. About $6,000 have been expended during the year for tuition and other school purposes. There are in the various township libraries 2,425 volumes, and this number has been taken out to read by the people during the year.

A few days before Buckner attempted his midnight raid upon our city, the family of one of his staff received a message from him, directing them to leave their home with all expedition, and proceed towards the South. They left in compliance with the request, but returned a day or two ago, and are again among us. This plainly shows that the Confederate rebels regard Louisville as a place of perfect security, and that they are willing to trust their safety and that to them is the safe keeping of those against whom they have meditated such heinous designs. The measure of condemnation can be heaped upon those who, so far from contemplating their attack, repudiate it.

No TWENTY MONTHS' RECRUITS.—The Military Board have found it necessary to decide not to receive any twelve months' recruits. The Federal Government will accept no troops for less than three years, and it is not probable that the State will incur further expense in the substitution of time volunteers. We trust that no one will volunteer to enter the war; do this vigorously and the term of service need not be one year, for peace will terminate it.

Colonel Whittaker's Regiment, encamped on a training site near Eminence, is filling rapidly. When filled, it will be many days. It will be one of the very finest volunteer regiments in the service. It is forming of splendid material, material worthy of the fearless and dashing Colonel and of his high spirit and devotion. We predict for Colonel Whittaker and his men a brilliant career in the field. May they speedily march thither.

At Camp at Frankfort.—The State Valley Arsenal, war, by the best information available from Floyd county it appears that there are collected in camp at that place about 2,000 rebels on foot and 500 cavalry. One half are said to be well armed; they have two pieces of artillery, and are fortifying the place. The cavalry are wearing the Confederate uniform, and are short of depredations. If these rebels are not routed soon they will become the terror of the whole State Valley.

Letter from Hopkinsville states that Buckner's command there is greatly demoralized. One of his companies has abandoned and returned to their homes, and a company of men has left, being greatly dissatisfied. A large number would join the Federal forces if an opportunity were offered. One young man, an officer, had resigned, and stated his intention of joining Gen. Rosecrans. The Confederates are short of tents, knapsacks, blankets, and wagon, and are suffering greatly.

HARPER CORPS CASE OF HELM AND MADDOX.—The case of Messrs. Helm and Maddox, who were arrested for treason before Judge Lewis, of Cincinnati, was brought before Judge Caldwell and General Bill for the prosecution. Upon the conclusion of the argument, Judge Lewis took the case under consideration and stated that he would give his decision next Friday.

The Evansville Journal has been informed that four of our private, two of them members of the Eleventh Indiana, and two of an Illinois regiment, were shot at their post last Thursday morning. They were shot by a party of about seven miles below the city, the engine and baggage car being precipitated down an embankment about twelve feet and completely demolished.

From the Indianapolis Journal we learn that the station car took a jump at the city of Indianapolis, and that the engine and baggage car were precipitated down an embankment about twelve feet and completely demolished.
